Description

Dingeman Elementary, located in Scripps Ranch, opened in September 1995. Our rapidly growing community of single-family houses has sweet smelling tropical flowers and wonderful breezes filling the air. Although hardship and pain overwhelmed us in the 2003 fires, we all work together, helping each other with daily challenges. It makes us proud to live in such a community.

We are named after Colonel Robert E. Dingeman, a living person with decades of service to the community. Our moniker is Dingeman Tigers, after the Colonel's nickname.

Students attend through CHOICE and VEEP, enriching cultural diversity. English learners compose 19 percent of the total school population.

Our goal is to ensure that parents, teachers, and community members are recognized and function as genuine partners in the education of all children. A variety of programs encourage collaboration in developing the highest expectations for the educational development of every child at Dingeman Elementary. Many of our teachers hold Master's degrees in education.

We engage all of our stakeholders in the process of educating every child to their highest potential. Dingeman is truly a community-based school where learning is beyond the four walls of the classroom. With the support of the community, families, and our brilliant staff we will take Dingeman Elementary to the next level.
