Description

Euclid is located in City Heights, in a community with many apartments, small single-family residences and commercially zoned areas. We are a Title I school with a diverse student body. The majority of students are Hispanic. We also have Southeast Asian, African, African-American and white students.

Euclid students are taught to be respectful and responsible. We instill in them the goals of always making good choices, cooperating with others and doing their best at school and in the community.

Our mission is to create a learning community in which everyone takes responsibility for student achievement, academic proficiency, social awareness and emotional stability. Together, we embrace the diversity and values of our community and work to ensure that our students become successful leaders and lifelong learners.

We focus on being a school where all children become readers, writers, listeners and speakers of social and academic English; where everyone celebrates achievement and respects all cultures and people; where staff works cooperatively with high expectations and exhibits a sense of connection with students and each other; where children experience the excitement of learning and the pride of accomplishment; and where school, parents and the community unite to provide a comfortable, safe, secure environment.

Euclid staff is dedicated to professional development. Both teachers and administrators pursue such topics as literacy, mathematics, monitoring students' academic progress and instructional strategies.
