Description

Our diversity makes Ross a special learning environment. With approximately 16 ethnic groups represented, students learn to appreciate differences and understand commonalities.

Our campus shines with new colors on all of the buildings. Beautiful mosaic and painted murals created by our very own students, in collaboration with A Reason To Survive (ARTS), Excel Youth Zone (XYZ) and High Tech Middle School, makes our school a very inviting and child centered climate.

Ross has 21 classrooms and a Child Development Center for two to four year olds.

The resource specialist, psychologist, counselor, speech and language pathologist and nurse provide support.

As one of 15 schools with a 15:1 student to teacher ratio in grades K-2, our small student to teacher ratio allows teachers to provide appropriate support and monitor needs and progress for effective and meaningful teaching and learning. Teachers participate in ongoing professional development.

Our success is built upon children, parents, staff and community working together to provide students the skills necessary for assuming a responsible position in a global society.
