Description

Wangenheim Middle School is named after Julius Wangenheim, an engineer and businessman who was instrumental in developing Balboa Park. Our spacious, well-maintained, clean school sits on 36 acres, surrounded by open space and playing fields. Staff and students are proud of our campus and strive to keep it looking great. We enjoy facilities that are no longer built in new schools, such as an auditorium with tiered seating.

We provide a positive, integrated, student-centered transition from elementary to high school that stresses high expectations for academic achievement, acquisition of social skills and responsible behavior. Our diverse students come together to form a cohesive group of adolescents.

The Wildcat Way is the road to success. We believe all students can learn, respect and value everyone involved in the educational process. Our varied strategies meet the unique social, educational, emotional, intellectual and physical needs of our varied population.

Our incredible, well known, elective program includes Spanish, art, cooking, choir, band, drama, orchestra and yearbook. We are the only middle school in the District boasting a full wood and metal shop.

Our supportive, caring and interested families serve on school and district committees. Parents assist with special projects and events. Our PTSA of dedicated parents spend countless hours strengthening the ties between home and school.

Achievements by students include awards for academic achievement and band. Wangenheim's test scores consistently exceed state goals, with our most recent API score at 811. Our highly committed teachers and principal also earn recognitions.
