

“...AND THE BEST IS HISTORY.”

Gerda Weissmann Klein

Holocaust Survivor, Historian, and Humanitarian

A Memoir About Her Life

4-5:00 p.m.

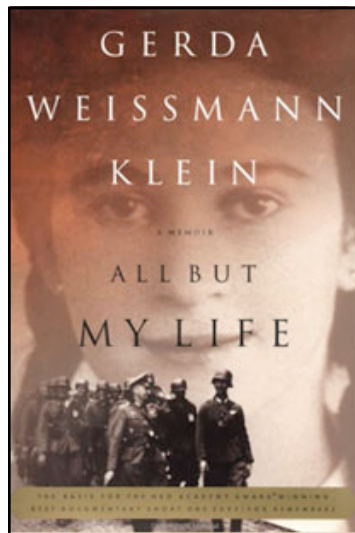

April 16, 2009

Instructional Media Center

2441 Cardinal Lane

San Diego, CA 92123

Teachers will be paid workshop rate for attending

- Gerda’s experiences restore faith in humanity and send an invaluable message about the strength of the human spirit.
- Learn about her struggle and survival during the holocaust.
- Explore how teaching genocide fits into the K-12 History-Social Science standards.
- Discover innovative ideas for teaching this content and for affecting students.

About the Author

Gerda Weissmann Klein was born in Bielitz, Poland, in 1924, and now lives in Arizona. The author of five books, she has received many awards and honorary degrees and has lectured throughout the country for the past forty-five years. All But My Life is the unforgettable story of her six-year ordeal as a survivor of Nazi cruelty. A dynamic and passionate speaker, Gerda’s story of her struggle and survival during the Holocaust empowers the audience to speak against prejudice, discrimination, and extremism.

One Survivor Remembers

(a production of Home Box Office and the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum), winner of an Emmy Award and the Academy Award for documentary short subject, was based on All But My Life.

To register for this workshop visit:

<http://registration.sandi.net>.

Questions: Contact Tim Betteridge

619-725-7335 or tbetteridge@sandi.net

REGISTRATION DUE BY

April 13, 2009

Space is Limited

Sponsored by Holt/McDougal

<http://www.kleinfoundation.org/>