Construction underway at Florence Griffith Joyner Elementary School

The ground has been broken on the new Florence Griffith Joyner Elementary School.

The new school, situated on 6.3 acres in City Heights, will include 55,666 square feet of facilities, 32 classrooms, a library, multipurpose room, state of the art technology, energy efficient design features and a joint-use grass playfield. The buildings' steel columns and roof lines express the spirit of Florence Griffith Joyner in their dynamic swiftness and strength.

The general contractor is Erickson-Hall, and the school was designed by JCJ / blackman architecture, inc. For San Diego City Schools, the project manager is Francisco Campuzano, the construction manager is Javier Carillo, and the project inspector is Ron Lintz.

The project is scheduled to be completed in fall 2006 and is funded by Proposition MM, the 1998 bond measure that provides $1.51 billion toward $4 billion of needed repairs and construction at San Diego City Schools.

"The mission of San Diego City Schools is to improve student achievement by supporting teaching and learning in the classroom."
