Library and classroom building underway at Freese

SAN DIEGO – A two-story building at Freese Elementary in Skyline is more than 50 percent complete. The new facility will include eight classrooms, instructional support space and a library for Freese’s 668 students. Other improvements at the school include a new lunch court shelter, ADA improvements, technology upgrades, major repairs and landscaping.

The project is scheduled to be completed in September 2003. The general contractor is Soltek Pacific. The architect is Mesquita & Associates. Ian Lyne of O’Connor Construction Management is the construction manager. Richard Hughes is the project manager, and Charles Ratliff is the project inspector.

The project is part of Proposition MM, the $1.51 billion bond measure that funds modernization and construction at San Diego City Schools.

“The mission of San Diego City Schools is to improve student achievement by supporting teaching and learning in the classroom.”
