HERBERT IBARRA ELEMENTARY SCHOOL
San Diego Unified School District

The ground has been broken on the new Herbert Ibarra Elementary School in City Heights. The Design-Build project will be completed by September 2005.

The two-story campus will span 56,000 square feet and will include 32 classrooms, a library, multipurpose room, administrative center, as well as 90 trees, soccer and baseball fields and energy efficient design features.

The general contractor is douglas e. barnhart, with Chip Swanson as project manager, John Marinucci as superintendent, Rene Barrera as project engineer and Suresh Rayana as chief estimator. The school was designed by Joe Calderon of Ruhnau*Ruhnau*Clark. The project manager is Cliff Gross, the construction manager is Ian Lyne, and the project inspector is Jed Griffith, all of San Diego City Schools.

The new school is funded by Proposition MM, a 1998 bond measure that provides $1.51 billion toward the $4 billion of needed repairs and construction at San Diego City Schools.

"The mission of San Diego City Schools is to improve student achievement by supporting teaching and learning in the classroom."
