Looking for a new and exciting way to engage students in civic education and responsibility?

Interested in developing young leaders through active service learning? The Project Citizen program promises to build student knowledge, develop research skills, and support skill development in reading, writing and presentation. Most importantly, Project Citizen will help deepen student understanding about how we can work together to make our communities a better place for ALL.

All participants will be receive:

- FREE Project Citizen materials
- Exciting community service-learning projects students can create in four weeks
- Optional Project Citizen portfolio competition

Project Citizen is proudly sponsored by the Center for Civic Education, the San Diego County Office of Education, and the San Diego Center for Economic Education.
