Comprehensive Service-Learning Training is for anyone working with students or youth groups – in the classroom or after school. This training will teach strategies to engage students through integrating community service with academic learning; implementing free character education program, rich reflection techniques, and ways to service at your site with no travel costs...all in three easy steps.

- First, what is service-learning? How is it different from community service? We will begin by exploring the three types of service and the elements of service-learning projects.
- Next we will demonstrate how to do service-learning. Learn the simple steps and practice some easy-to-use tools for planning service projects with your students. Experience sample lessons to get your students thinking. Apply lessons to character education. We will even give you time to begin brainstorming on-site project ideas with your peers.
- And finally, resources: We will review the various curricula, resources and support available to you through eXcel Youth Zone, our state and national partners.

This comprehensive training is designed to be practical and highly interactive (including modeling lesson plans, group brainstorming sessions, and free curricula). Our intention is that you leave with the tools necessary for service-learning success.

The registration fee for one person is $80 and for two from the same organization is $120 total (a savings of $40). Trainings are appropriate for all educators: teachers, afterschool staff, administrators, principals and parents. Lunch is not included and we recommend you bring a lunch or utilize San Diego County Office of Education cafeteria.

Checks should be made payable to eXcel Youth Zone. If you decide not to attend, reimbursements will be granted for cancellations made before 6:00 p.m. July 24, 2009. After that, fees are nonrefundable.

Trainings are subject to cancellation if there are less than 15 participants registered by July 24, 2009.
